

TIFF MANUELL

Path Less Travelled Mural

Path Less Travelled is a big beauty of a mural and a study of nature's colors and how we draw energy from being surrounded by natural landscapes. A beautiful array of painting techniques started with heavy brush strokes to fill the background layers and then slowly build up with a scraping technique which gives it wonderful geological textures. The fluid paint drips feel much like rain and flowing waters. Whilst calming as it is colorful, this painterly contemporary wallpaper mural creates an abundant feeling of positive energy.
